When we provide inspired & inspiring support

We trust us: they can count on us & we can count more on them.

People feel hope & are willing to share their desires & dreams with us & feel able to move with us toward their dreams.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor (slowly).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves...

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

People say, “I know you won’t give up on me.”

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.

The odds begin to shift in people’s favor.

Together, we have the satisfaction of participating in a process: no support > planning & organizing support > finding opportunities > growth (sometimes > being able to step back).

Love, appreciation, & learning grow between us.

People move into new relationships, as an active part of community life.

People begin to make more sound decisions for themselves.

We see capacities in people that are hidden to them; they see capacities in us hidden to us.

Together we can witness the source of our faith.